

(FREE) CAREER-RELATED SERVICES FOR MBA STUDENTS & ALUMNI

DESCRIPTION

Prepared in July 2017

Who are you?

We are Career Angels – an international career consulting boutique that provides tailor-made services to Top Managers, Directors & Members of the Management Board that are related to their careers.

We are active or former Executive Search Consultants with each a minimum of 7 years of international experience, mainly in recruitment, as well as in HR Departments. Almost all of us have completed additional HR-related post-graduate studies and / or have relevant Career & Business coaching certificates with the necessary practice. Our individual track records are backed by branch specific expertise & experience. To meet our team, click here.

What is career consulting?

When deciding to look for a new job, an experienced manager may:

- a) know exactly what they are looking for
- b) not know at all what to do next
- c) feel a need to specify their career direction (usually resulting from having too many options or a desire / need of changing industries)

Career consulting is supporting individuals in these decisions, as well as in the actions that follow. See below.

What services do you offer?

While headhunters work for companies looking for candidates, Career Angels work with individuals, i.e. executives “looking for companies”, in other words: for a new job. Our services include:

- preparation of perfect application documents: CV, business case portfolio, emails and letters
- flawless online presence
- sourcing & research of potential employers
- recommendation of Executive Search Consultants
- monitoring of online job ads
- screening audits and interview preparations
- support by email, Skype or in-person where applicable

OUR PARTNERS ABOUT US

We choose Career Angels [as a partner] as they share the same passion and commitment as SpenglerFox in providing executives with the support and direction during challenging and unknown times. Career Angels brings to the SFTP* a wealth of expertise, relevant and current market insights. Their extensive research underpins the reliability of the information and advice shared with our executives.

*The SFTP – SpenglerFox Transition Program – aims to assist Senior Executives in transition by enveloping them in a community of care.

SpenglerFox

We've been cooperating with Career Angels since 2014. We appreciate having them as one of our career partners mainly because of the added value they bring to our students and alumni:

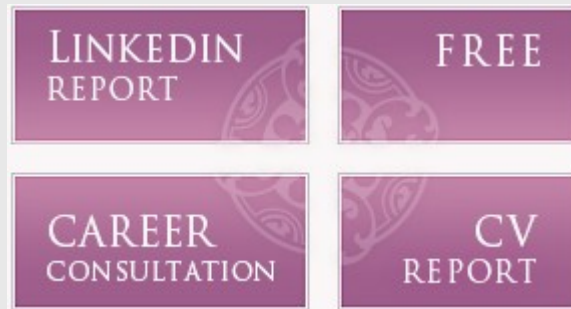

- every Global Executive MBA group praises the lecture on "(International) Job Hunting for Executives"
- the regular webinar "Are you LinkedIn or LinkedOUT?" is very popular and all of the participants are maintained throughout the interactive 60 minutes
- we also involve Career Angels in our alumni activities such as "CV Speed Check" or "Career Cafe" where the feedback to date has been excellent

What makes them different? In contrast to our other career partners, mainly executive search firms, they provide our students and alumni with practical tools and pieces of advice backed by research and statistics. Our most demanding classes perceive them as competent sounding boards and partners at eye level.

We can highly recommend cooperating with Sandra and her team.

WU Executive Academy

What services do you offer MBA students and alumni?

Career Consultation: ca. 45 min via Skype discussing job hunting methods, strategy & application documents

CV Report: analysis of CV across 8 criteria like: technical elements, punctuation consistency, style & formatting, etc.

LinkedIn Report: feedback regarding the first impression and assessing all profile sections systematically

Why do you offer that much for free?

Because we believe that:

- every executive has the right to a confidential conversation about their careers
- somebody should be on the side of the job hunters as opposed to headhunters or employers
- managers should have access to a competent sounding board
- executives should be able to effectively navigate the current labor market that might resemble a labyrinth
- everybody should be able to present their competencies adequately even though they are not sales people
- every single person has their own, appropriate and “right” career path
- every manager has their “ideal” place on the market
- what we do matters

Why you? We already have a career center and/or cooperate with local headhunters.

There are two aspects to this:

- thanks to our invisible role on the job market, we see how thousands of headhunters and employers respond and react across Europe – in other words: instead of one perspective, you get the full picture
- given how broad our data and know-how is, we are complimentary to existing career services and career partners

Who has already trusted us?

We regularly hold lectures, workshops and webinars for (senior) executives, MBA students and/or alumni, sharing our knowledge about executive career planning & job hunting. We’ve cooperated with i.a.

- WU Executive Academy
- MIP Politecnico di Milano
- WUT Business School
- International Institute of Management
- Edinbrough Business School (subsidiary in Kiev)
- Executive Development Day by SpenglerFox

INTERESTED IN ONE OF THE BELOW?

COMPLIMENTARY CAREER CONSULTATION

Tell us about your current situation, get feedback & tips on:
- your job hunting methods
- your application documents

At the end of the 45-min conversation you will exactly know how to find a job yourself, as well as if and how much you'd like to delegate to us.

FREE CV REPORT

Send us your CV & you will receive a CV Report with market-relevant tips within 3-5 business days.

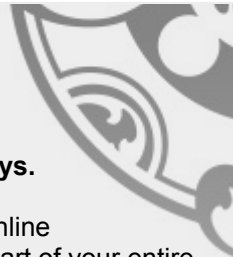

The report includes an analysis of your CV across 8 criteria like: technical elements, punctuation consistency, style & formatting, language accuracy or overall legibility.

FREE LINKEDIN REPORT

Send us a link to your LinkedIn profile & you will receive a LinkedIn Report, with feedback on all your profile sections systematically within 3-5 business days.

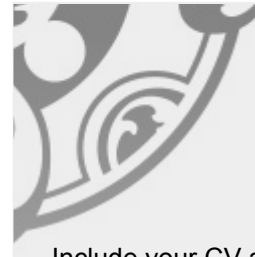

Having a perfect LinkedIn profile is just one part of your online presence (also called e-branding) which is in turn only a part of your entire personal & professional branding as an executive.
